BATTLE ROYAL WITH HONORS EVEN AT FINISH

Game Forfeited Once by the Military Institute With No Scores.

There was a battle royal on the gridiron at Washington park Thursday afternoon. The combatants were the El Paso High school eleven and the team from the Military Institute, and neither side scored, though the game was forfeited by the Military Institute in the first quarter, the official score being 1 to 0.

It all happened with 11 minutes to play. Institute was on its own 35 yard line and was penalized 15 yards by field judge Hahn for pushing and pulling their man through the line, contrary to the regulations. The Military institute team objected to this decision, which was enforced by referee Elfers, and declined to play, so the game was given to the High school, 1 to 0.

Game Resumed. There was considerable wrangling between the captains of the two teams. When the argument came the ball was in the possession of the High school on their opponents' 15 yard line, when coach Van Surdam said they would not play for those officials presiding during the rest of the game. It was then agreed to continue the game with Van Surdam of the Military Institute as referee and coach Caldwell of the High school team as umpire and the game went.

High School Outwitted. Outwitted nearly 10 pounds to the man the boys from the High school with bulldog tenacity and grit held on at critical moments and at times threw their opponents back for losses. The superior weight of the institute boys told at times and they went through the High school line like steam plows, only to be stopped after making long gains of 10 and 15 yards and being frequently penalized. The High school team was also frequently penalized for offside plays.

The forward pass was used by both sides, but nearly every time a man from the opposing team would catch the ball. Military institute fumbled frequently and was not fast enough to get away from the speedy tacklers of the High school team.

One Chance Lost. High school had one fine chance to score a good victory when they made 20 yards on a triple pass, little Chenoweth carrying the ball to the opponents' 15 yard line. With the ball on their opponents' 15 yard line Grady tried for a field goal, but missed, and the only chance to score was gone.

It was the High school's ball in the center of the field when the first half ended with the score 0-0. In the second half it was the same thing over again and the end of the second half with the field covered with a cloud of dust and the clouds of night gathering so dark that one could hardly see the ball on a forward pass or kick. The institute team held the ball in the center of the field when the game was called, and the score stood 0-0.

When they got back to town, both teams going through the game without a man being hurt, the High school crowd had a parade with the students dressed in sheets. Tooting horns and giving the school yell, they marched through the streets of the city and went to the Crawford theater, where they hammered and pounded on the balcony and gallery doors, giving the school yell and shouting loud and long.

Issues Challenge. Capt. H. E. Van Surdam of the Military Institute has issued a challenge to the High school to play off the tie at any place they may wish, with coach Brown of the New Mexico Military Institute, Coach Ballard of the New Mexico Military Institute and coach Shipp of the university of Arizona to officiate.

Coach Ballard Caldwell of the High school team made his men fare well after the game. Thursday night and said he had been well satisfied with the work they had done during the season just closed and hoped they would have as good a team next year.

DECLINES THE VAN SURDAM CHALLENGE

The High School Director of Athletics Says Clean Is Impossible.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 25, 1910. Editor El Paso Herald: In answer to the challenge for a football game issued over the name of superintendent Van Surdam, I wish to say, not on behalf of the football team but in behalf of clean athletics, that I cannot accept.

The pitiable spectacle yesterday only illustrates the impossibility of any officials to have a clean game between the High school and the Military Institute. The officials that superintend Van Surdam proposes could not possibly enforce clean playing any better than the coaches of the two teams did. The repeated fouls committed as shown by the penalties inflicted by Mr. Caldwell and superintendent Van Surdam is proof enough to me that another game would only make still worse the present bad feeling between the two schools and tempt the boys still further to unclean athletics.

From the standpoint of finance and for the sake of winning an unquestioned victory, I should be eager to play another football game and would yield to the wishes of superintendent Van Surdam and the High school football team; but for the above reason I must decline the challenge in the face of the opposition of our own team.

J. W. Cull, Director of Athletics, El Paso High School. Approved: R. M. White, Principal. A daily short story every day in The Herald; also the serial.

ROSWEEL SCHOOL IS VICTORIOUS IN GOOD GAME

New Mexico A. & M. Puts up Game Fight But Loses 5 to 0.

Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 25.—The Thanksgiving football game played on the college athletic field yesterday afternoon between the New Mexico College of Agriculture and the New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell, was one of the hardest fought gridiron battles ever seen on the college field. The game resulting in a score of 5 to 0 in favor of Roswell, this victory giving the Military Institute the territorial championship.

The game was as clean and free from any objectionable features as could possibly be, there being absolutely no shuffling or kicking at the decisions of the officials. The cadets came over here prepared and confident that they would win the game by a large score, and the result was a bigger surprise to them than it was to the college.

The Elks went down in a body with the Las Cruces brass band to head them and paraded around the field before the game, being joined by a large crowd of the students. During the intermissions the band rendered music, the college students performed their serpentine parade, the Elks gave a military drill and the Elks' orchestra made its first public appearance.

Last night the members of the visiting team were entertained with a dance at Hadley hall, which was attended by a large number of people from Las Cruces, Mesilla Park and Mesilla. The visitors returned home this morning by way of El Paso, well pleased with their trip and the treatment accorded them at the college.

TABOO WINS OPENING HANDICAP FROM SCRATCHED FIELD AT JUAREZ

Taboo won the Independencia handicap at the opening of the Juarez race track Thursday afternoon from a field scratched to three starters. Jack Atkin was picked to win against the favorite, but was not right and, after running his race with a weight of 122 pounds, was pulled up at the finish and breezed home. Harrigan was allowed to set the pace, and he took command soon after the barrier was up, to a perfect start. Harrigan led all the way around with Jack Atkin second to the half when Taboo overtook him and started after Harrigan. Jockey Bencheson saved his mount for the final effort and made a driving finish to beat Harrigan, who was tiring from the long drive.

John Griffin, upon whose ability to cover the distance many were depending, failed to show anything of his old form and was bunched among those present at the finish of the first race. Trance was the winner of this event, taking the money in a gallop. Meadow got away eighth, but picked up distance after getting up steam and finished second, ahead of Ocean Queen, who ran a good race.

Rue Easy Winner. The second race, a five furlong affair, was an easy one. Rue, Uncle Ben and Flying Wolf finishing without effort in the one, two, three positions. Rue allowed Flying Wolf to lead to the stretch turn when she broke loose and came on for a two length winning. Bencheson, the winner of the handicap, also had a winning to his credit in the third, when Pedro was sent under the wire a winner. Pedro, an old time, last season favorite, allowed the others to do the real work and came on when ready. Marlan Casey, strong to the stretch, lacked the endurance to clinch the winning and allowed Pedro to take command at the finish. Hannis was third.

Fifth Event Exciting. The fifth race was between Rio Pecos and Lomond with Lomond showing the most speed and endurance. Rio Pecos was running first at the stretch, but Lomond came on with a burst of speed under Rettig's handling and finished in front with Chapultepec second and Clint Tucker third. Rio Pecos string badly and dropping back to sixth. Fred Mulholland, used to the course, hung back in the mile to the struggle through the final quarter.

JACKSONVILLE RACES. Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 25.—Donald McDonald, carrying top weight of 124 pounds, and a favorite in the betting at 2-1, won the Thanksgiving handicap, the feature of the opening day on the Monier park course yesterday, from a high class field of horses. About 8000 persons attended the first day's racing. Nineteen bookmakers were in line and speculation was brisk.

The play was used 11 times for a total gain of 265 yards. The Indians made only two first downs, while their opponents accomplished the trick 43 times.
